

MONTANA WOLF PROGRAM WEEKLY REPORT

To: Interested Parties

From: FWP Wolf Program Coordinator, Carolyn Sime (406-461-0587)

Subject: Wolf Program Activities and Related Information, August 21 – August 27, 2010

Contributors to the Montana Wolf Weekly are Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks (FWP), Universities, USDA Wildlife Services (WS), the National Park Service (NPS; Glacier NP; Yellowstone National Park will be reported in the Wyoming Wolf Weekly), US Forest Service, Confederated Salish and Kootenai Tribes, and the Blackfeet Nation.

Highlighted activities relate to: monitoring, wolf – livestock interactions, outreach and education, research, law enforcement, and other miscellaneous topics of public interest. The Weekly Report will be available on each Monday, covering the previous week. It and other wolf program information (including the 2009 annual report) can be found on the FWP website.

Wolf Monitoring Activities

On 8/26, FWP crews caught and radio collared a wolf from the Cache Creek pack west of Missoula.

Flights: Asher flew in the Paradise Valley and south of Big Timber on 8/24.

Wolf - Livestock Activities

Nothing new to report.

Lethal control efforts to remove the Horse Creek pack south of Ennis pack are ongoing.

Outreach and Education

See below for an update on Judge Molloy's ruling which reinstated Endangered Species Act Protections for the wolf throughout the northern Rocky Mountains. See <http://fwp.mt.gov/wolf> for the latest information regarding what the ruling means for Montana, what changes and what doesn't. FWP's most recent media releases are also available.

On 8/20, FWP had met with members of hunting and livestock organizations. A meeting summary was sent to attendees on 8/25 and is distributed with this week's Montana Wolf Weekly Report.

Also distributed with this week's Montana Wolf Weekly Report is a letter sent by FWP Director Maurier to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service Acting Director. FWP is seeking assurances that USFWS would respond in a timely fashion to FWP requests for regulatory authority to implement an abridged conservation hunt in late fall 2010 and that USFWS would initiate and complete rulemaking to reclassify wolves in northwest Montana from endangered to threatened and adopt special regulations that would enable a 2011 hunting season. As a part of that rulemaking effort, Montana would also seek additional flexibility that would give livestock owners the same ability to protect their livestock as current federal regulations in the experimental area allow (thus making federal regulations in that regard consistent statewide).

Research Activities

Nothing new to report.

Law Enforcement and Related Activities

Nothing new to report.

Other Updates

Defenders of Wildlife Statement about Wolf Compensation

On 8/20, Defenders of Wildlife issued a press release announcing that it will end their wolf compensation program, as of September 10, 2010. Visit the Defenders of Wildlife website for additional information.

Northern Rockies Delisting Litigation in Missoula Federal Court

On 8/20, FWP announced it would appeal the federal district court ruling that reinstated federal Endangered Species Act protections in the northern Rockies. The requisite documents are being prepared.

Background: On 8/6, federal Endangered Species Act protections were reinstated through a ruling from the federal court. The court ruled that the federal Endangered Species Act does not allow the federal government to subdivide a distinct population segment so that a species is listed in part of it and delisted in the other part. The ruling stated that the wolf must either be listed or delisted as one unit within the Northern Rockies region. Further, given that the current Wyoming wolf management plan and regulatory mechanisms are not approved by the federal government and are considered inadequate, federal protections must be reinstated throughout the region.

Wolves across northern Montana are now legally reclassified as federally endangered. Wolves across southern Montana are reclassified as experimental, non-essential. Different federal regulations apply to each area. See <http://fwp.mt.gov/wolf> for information about the federal regulations and other updates.

Montana has been exploring options with the USFWS regarding ways to change management on the ground to reflect the wolf population's secure, recovered status and the need to manage the population through hunting. Work to develop options in the event of a relisting had already been underway and will continue.

2010 Wolf Hunting Season

Because the federal court ruling reinstated Endangered Species Act protections for wolves throughout the northern Rockies, the 2010 Montana wolf hunting season is canceled for now. FWP is in the process of exploring ways to secure regulatory authority from the federal government to move forward with a fair chase hunting season.
