Beyond BOW workshops provide opportunities to learn outdoors skills. Workshops are designed especially for women and are an extension of the Becoming an Outdoors-Woman program sponsored by Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks

Tired of carrying your camping gear on your back. Packing into the backcountry on your horse is a fun and rewarding experience. Learn how to do it the right way with members of the Backcountry Horsemen of the Flathead.

The instructors will provide a hands-on introduction to the skills needed for packing in on horses and mules. Topics will include defensive horse handling, packing and minimum impact horse use. Learn how to pack using a decker, sawbuck and riding saddles.

A wide variety of packing equipment and how to use it will be discussed at the workshop. Come learn what will work best for you and what your goals are for packing your stock.

Gain awareness of leave no trace camping to minimize the effect of traveling and use of stock in the backcountry. U. S. Forest Service techniques and requirements will be covered.

Lunch will be provided using a back country kitchen set up.

Requirements to Participate

- This class is for beginners. Women with little or know previous experience in horse packing are encouraged to apply.
- You do not need to have attended a "Becoming an Outdoors-Woman" workshop to participate in this program, but you must be at least 18 years of age.
- You will need to wear shoes and clothing appropriate for working around horses.
- Lunch will be provided.
- Please do not bring your horse or mule. Stock animals and simulated packing scenarios will be provided to give you hands-on practice.
