Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks
WHERE TO START

Whether hunting public or private land, the successful hunter will spend time scouting an area and talking with locals to identify good hunting opportunities and establish personal relationships.

The first thing you will need is a good set of maps. Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks publishes the Directory of Montana Maps which provides a thorough listing of agency and local government contacts where you can find land ownership information. It is also a good idea to contact the Bureau of Land Management, the U.S. Forest Service, the U.S. Geological Survey, or a local sporting goods store for a map of the area you intend to hunt. Land ownership changes over time and it’s always a good idea to verify public ownership with your local land management agency. You can also verify public and private land ownership on the web through the Montana Department of Administration Cadastral Mapping Project.

Contact information for each of these resources is contained in this guide.

To obtain a copy of this directory, write to Fish, Wildlife & Parks PO Box 200701, Helena, MT 59620 or call (406) 444-2435 and request a DIRECTORY OF MONTANA MAPS. Copies are also available at all Regional Headquarters and on the FWP website at http://fwp.mt.gov.

Understanding the law:

Montana Code Annotated Section 87-6-415 reads:

87-6-415. Failure to obtain landowner's permission for hunting. (1) A resident or nonresident shall obtain permission of the landowner, the lessee, or their agents before taking or attempting to take nongame wildlife, predatory animals, game animals, or wolves while hunting on private property.

(2) A person who violates this section shall, upon conviction for a first offense, shall be fined $135.

(3) A person convicted of a second offense of hunting on private property without obtaining permission of the landowner within 5 years shall be fined not less than $500 or more than $1,000.

(4) In addition, the person, upon conviction under subsection (3) or forfeiture of bond or bail:

(a) may be subject to forfeiture of any current hunting, fishing, or trapping license issued by this state and the privilege to hunt, fish, or trap in this state or to use state lands, as defined in 77-1-101, for recreational purposes for a period of time set by the court; and

(b) may be ordered to make restitution for property damage resulting from the violation in an amount and manner to be set by the court. The court shall determine the manner and amount of restitution after full consideration of the convicted person's ability to pay the restitution. Upon good cause shown by the convicted person, the court may modify any previous order specifying the amount and manner of restitution. Full payment of the amount of restitution ordered must be made prior to the release of state jurisdiction over the person convicted.

ALL HUNTERS are required to obtain landowner permission before hunting on private property, regardless of animals or birds hunted.

ASK FIRST

Hunt on Private Property!
Maps identifying ownership of land in Montana are available from various county, state and federal agency offices. Private land ownership (by owner’s name) is generally identified in county plat books and/or county conservation district maps. These documents may be available only through personal review at the county courthouse, or there may be copies available for purchase. Public land ownership (by agency name) is generally identified in maps produced by the appropriate land management agency.

Map information is only as current as the most recent date of printing, so users are advised to view maps as tools to identify potential land ownership, and to verify actual ownership through personal contact with private landowners and land management agency officials. To help keep the information in this guide as current as possible, please call (406) 444-3065 or email joweigand@mt.gov if you find new resources or incorrect information.
