Montana Elk Objective Maps

The maps are based upon the numbers in the associated Population Status Charts available at: http://fwp.mt.gov/fishAndWildlife/management/elk/

Each unit has a population objective with a lower and upper estimate which represents the objective range for that area. The maps reflect population objective and status based upon that range.

The following maps depict elk objectives and several representations of the status of those objectives.

- Elk Population Objective
  - Objective population number (single estimate, midpoint of the range) for the unit
- Elk Population Objective Status
  - Below, Within, or Above the objective range
- Elk Population Objective Status (Percent)
  - Within objective range
  - Percent below objective range (below the lower population objective estimate)
  - Percent above objective range (above the upper population objective estimate)
- Elk Population Objective Status (Number)
  - Within objective range
  - Number below objective range (below the lower population objective estimate)
  - Number above objective range (above the upper population objective estimate)
