FWP assesses a special use permit fee of $3 per participant for all fishing contests with 30 or more people using FWP administered fishing access sites or state parks. Examples that may warrant a fee reduction include: contests organized primarily for children under the age of 13; contests conducted by nonprofit organizations; and contests when proceeds are donated to a nonprofit organization, a charitable cause, educational programs, or the maintenance, management, or improvement of FWP sites. Fee adjustment decisions are the responsibility of FWP and are based on the information provided in this permit application. Please complete the remainder of this page to help FWP determine the fee amount. The contest organizer is responsible for submitting all owed fees within 30 days after the conclusion of the contest. Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks

AQUATIC INVASIVE SPECIES PROGRAM TOURNAMENT REQUIREMENTS

The following requirements that all boats are clean of any plants, animals, water and mud prior to launching will help prevent the spread of aquatic invasive species (AIS) through fishing tournaments.

AIS Requirements:

- 1) All participants shall comply with Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks' (FWP) tournament requirements.
- 2) Each individual participant shall inspect, clean, drain, and dry their watercraft prior to participating in the tournament.
- 3) All participants shall be inspected by FWP personnel when applicable.*
- 4) All boats shall be washed prior to launching.
- 5) Tournament organizers are required to inform all participants of these requirements prior to launching.

AIS Background and Impacts:

Aquatic invasive species are a threat to our aquatic resources. Zebra mussels, Eurasian watermilfoil, New Zealand mudsnails, and whirling disease are just a few of the destructive and aggressive invaders that threaten Montana waterways. Aquatic invasive species have few natural predators or control agents, they can reproduce and grow rapidly and threaten the ecological stability, diversity and abundance of native species. Aquatic invasive species also threaten commercial, agricultural, aquaculture, and recreational activities. Boats, trailers, and equipment that come in contact with aquatic systems easily transport these exotics. Aquatic invasive species can be introduced into new areas by the movement of water; they can also be transported to new sites attached to boats, trailers, and equipment. Many of the invasive species that threaten Montana have the ability to withstand extended periods of time out of water or in small amounts of water making their transport to new locations possible.

Thank you for your cooperation with this program. Montana Fish, Wildlife and Parks personnel were present at several of the tournaments last year and overall the boat inspection process ran very smoothly. Much of the success of the program can be attributed to the cooperation of both the tournament organizers and participants. Thank you again for your cooperation and we look forward to working with you during the tournament season.

Please contact FWP for further information 406-444-2449.

*FWP personnel will carry out boat inspections at some tournaments. The inspection will involve checking outside surfaces of the boat for the presence of any aquatic weeds or animals and will involve inspecting the live well and interior of the boat for the presence of any unlawful live bait, other aquatic animals, or standing water. All water should be drained from the boat away from waterbodies. If necessary, the exterior of the boat will be washed with a power sprayer to remove any aquatic plant parts or animals, and any unlawful live bait or other aquatics will be confiscated and citations may be issued. The boat inspection stations will be set up at least 2 days prior to the start of the tournament to provide anglers with the opportunity to go through the inspection process prior to the day of the tournament.
