Q16

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

Multiple local places. Single moms want to expose their children. Help with that issue. A big expensive centralized facility should be supported by the private wealth sector it cater to. That is not bad but public resources can be used so much more usefully to supporting the youth and our future shooters.

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

Montana is a big state. A single, central shooting facility, would be impractical in Montana, because of the long distances between cities & towns. Entirely too many people would have to drive too far to reach and use such a site. We would better off with sites situated closer to main residential areas. Possibly 4 or 5 sites would be very much better than one large site.

Q16

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

Gun clubs are a local affair. They need local support to succeed. The most important item is good information on bylaws, club rules, club board and governance. Most clubs do not have a clear idea of how to proceed. The Billings Rod and Gun Club has succeeded in creating a working set of bylaws, a good board of directors and a club ethos that is welcoming to our members. Our bylaws, range rules and organization could be used as a basis for other clubs to be better organized and run.

Q16

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

We have a large number of shooting ranges in our area, with varied specialties, from Trap Shooting, to pistol competitions, to long range shooting opportunities. I have also seen significant benefit of the grant monies that have been awarded by FWP. Shooting range protection is important, I know that there is some legislation already to support that.

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

The free for all of going out on a state section to shoot has produced nothing but conflict with landowners, other recreationalists etc. We must provide some accessable, organized shooting areas. Use th eplaces where people go shoot anyway and organize them with berms and designated firing lines.

Access, around Bozeman there's is only 2 public spots to shoot that I'm aware of. Both of which are very overcrowded and can become unsafe especially with the amount of people there on weekends. Someone will probably get hurt because it has gotten so bad with in the last 3 years.

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

More small 100-200 yard pits and several long range areas of at least 1000 yards. Separating out rednecks blowing off some steam and giving them plenty of designated space to have fun while giving long range shooters somewhere to hone skills are both important. More Americans are also taking an interest in competition and CQB shooting, but these require a facility to accommodate. There is no facility that will draw everyone from everywhere, but pure recreation shooters and people that are actually training are two separate things. They should be accommodated as such. A premier shooting facility can pay for itself hosting trainers and competitions, by the way.

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

Designated areas that are clearly marked as allowable shooting areas, furthermore areas that are not impacted but seasonal road closures. Missoula county has a ridiculous amount of public land road closures, with minimal areas that are obviously designed for public land shooting activity

Q16

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

Right now, simply availability of shooting locations. In the Gallatin area, we don't have any public gun ranges, or private for that matter. Our group has talked for years about findings a new space to shoot, since the state lands we've shot on before are all now closed to shooting sports. The few who don't clean up after themselves or don't practice safely ruin everything for the vast majority of people.

Q16

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

Local ranges in every county. Montana is a BIG state, it makes no sense to invest in a single large complex that is hours away from most shooters. Building multiple regional facilities would best serve the shooters in Montana. There are already large multi-discipline ranges in Montana that are under-utilized because of the travel distance to get there.

Q16

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

Tactical and practical shooting venues. This is the future of shooting sports and is firmly established in other parts of the country. When I travel to events in TX, UT, or the southeastern US, other shooters are always shocked when I tell them these kinds of events barely exist in MT outside of a few small local matches.

More options for competition, training, and improvement. Too often people are limited to single target they set out at 100yds on some random land or stuck with an overpriced range membership to access sub par facilities and target sets, ran by organizations that don't listen to their members

If you're going to build expensive shooting ranges do so away from populated areas, and start making rules like no shooting within 500 yards of a home. It's getting ridiculous with the population boom.

Build more indoor 50 foot ranges that we could shoot air rifle, .22 position shooting, Pistol shooting. Some cities have clubs that have ranges, but Helena doesn't have anything for competitive shooting, just range406 that is not set up for competition and is expensive, not designed for clubs.

Q16

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

Shooters in Montana need ranges that have usable infrastructure. The Dillon shooting range is an example of worn out target frames and has no surfaces to staple targets to. This is leading to people bringing cardboard and other garbage to the range and it is being left behind.

Q16

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

Several years ago, I heard there was a new rule on state lands where you could not hunt within a quarter mile of a building, even if that building was on adjacent private land. I asked the Helena wardens about it at the time and got differing replies. No-one could provide me with a direct MCA or such, just a vague policy that they are using for citations. There seems to be incredible variation on how, where, and if, this rule is being enforced. Some of the concerns are, 1. How can a person know if they are a quarter of a mile (440 yards exactly) away from a building on or adjacent to state lands if there is a hill, mountain, thick brush or trees, or other line of sight barrier? Is DNRC suggesting that everyone must purchase a smartphone and GIS type app, an electric rangefinder, and constantly reference it to see if they are approaching within a quarter mile of someone's building? How would that affect someone's hunting experience? 2. This law does NOT apply to the landowner, so the landowner can be within a quarter mile on their own side of the fence and be discharging firearms at will. I have seen (and have photos) of several situations where a homeowner next to state land has put multiple steel target on the state land, and shoots from their property to the state for target practice. How is the landowner allowed to do this, but the public land user is not allowed to shoot within ¼ mile of the private residence? I know of several situations where state lands abut federal lands which are next to private property, so you can discharge firearms on the BLM and Forest service parcels, which in some cases are closer to buildings than the quarter mile. It is an enforcement nightmare. This law is also void on state lands if someone is below the high-water mark, (duck hunting situation) but within a quarter mile of someone else's building. So, it just adds to the confusion. 3. I have spoken with different wardens. One told me flat out he would not write this ticket. Another told me he has written it only twice, both cases for one extremely insistent and wealthy landowner who is protecting his backyard deer herd and is aware of the law while insisting the warden write the citation. I also have heard secondhand of a situation in R1 where a hunter, who was aware of this regulation, hunted state land, stayed far away from neighboring houses, shot a deer, which unfortunately ran towards the private within the quarter mile. The hunter did the ethical thing and dispatched the deer, safely, well within the state land, but not further than a quarter mile, and was cited, and had his deer confiscated because the landowner insisted the ticket to be written. 4. I have not been able to confirm but suspect that there are both state sanctioned and informal shooting ranges currently in operation that violate this rule unknowingly. A study should have been conducted by DNRC before implementation of this rule to see how many times this situation occurs with other state, local, and federal agency lands. 5. I have personally lost 3 of my best turkey hunting spots because of this regulation! A turkey is hunted with a shotgun, a weapons restriction legal method, that poses almost zero threat to any neighboring properties. I have heard of some landowners who have purposefully moved garden sheds to the corners of their property to keep hunters from hunting within a quarter mile of their property lines. 6. The Montana Constitution gives all Montanans the right to hunt on all public lands of the state. The constitution also gives Montana Fish, Wildlife, and Parks the sole authority to regulate the methods of hunting in the state. "The Montana Constitution protects the right to hunt and fish under Article IX, Section 7 (Preservation of Harvest Heritage), passed in 2004. This amendment establishes that the opportunity to harvest wild fish and game is a heritage to be preserved, without creating rights to trespass on private property or infringing on private property rights. Key Aspects of Montana's Right to Hunt and Fish • Constitutional Protection: The provision states: "The opportunity to harvest wild fish and wild game animals is a heritage that shall forever be preserved to the individual citizens of the state". • Scope: It protects the right to hunt, fish, and trap, often considered a core part of Montana's cultural heritage. • Limitations: This right does not grant a right of access to private land. Hunters and fishermen must respect private property rights and laws. • Management & Regulation: While the right is protected, the state retains the authority to manage fish and wildlife populations and regulate the methods of take. • Legislative Efforts: In 2022 and 2023, efforts were made to further strengthen these rights through potential amendments (such as HB 372 in 2023), aiming to establish hunting and fishing as the preferred means of managing wild fish and game populations. The provision ensures that the state cannot easily abolish hunting and fishing, while allowing the Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks (FWP) to continue to regulate seasons, methods, and licenses." 7. DNRC has no authority to make this decision. This issue needs to be constitutionally addressed, by FWP, and the methods for this are below in the last 2 points of this letter. 8. There is a state section near Townsend, Mt that I and many others have hunted for many years, some for generations. This section is in an area with ZERO other public access. It houses Whitetail and Mule deer, Waterfowl, Turkeys, Pheasants, and Hungarian partridge. My friend's 2 children shot their first deer on this property. A few years ago, someone bought a lot next to this land and proceeded to build a new house, and post threatening messages about not hunting on the fenceposts around the state property. Well, that lead to many arguments with locals who HAVE been hunting here for generations. In 2023 my daughter filled a B tag here, the deer ran close to the road before falling, within sight of the house, but several hundred yards away. When we got to the deer, it was still alive, and she dispatched it safely. Congratulations and high 5's went around and we started field dressing the deer, in a few minutes a car stopped on the road and this man started screaming obscenities at me and my 2 young daughters, threatening to call the wardens and the Sheriff on us, and all other manner of uncivilized talk that should NEVER be spoken in front of children. He said he has had the wardens write 3 people already for hunting "his" state land. He calmed down a bit when I approached him and told him I had kids hunting with me and I did not appreciate his words or attitude, and I was a Hunters Ed instructor, and we had done nothing wrong! I did not allow him to harass us any further, I told him to either call the wardens or move along on his way. He left, but this situation, where a newcomer can build next to public land; and then bully people and block hunting from it is completely backwards! They move in here, so they should be required to live with the land usage that has been happening for generations! This new misguided regulation is making criminals of people who have been taking their families hunting on these state sections for, in some cases, generations! There are many other fair, equitable, commonsense solutions the DNRC could pursue to keep public land access open for all and still address whatever it is they are trying to address with this misguided regulation. 1. If recreation shooting close to neighboring houses is what is trying to be addressed here, the reg can clearly state that no recreational or target shooting is allowed within a quarter mile of a building, instead of "discharge of firearm" and it should state "except for legal hunting" as well. 2. If hunting safety zones are what is being addressed, the standard of every other state should be followed. 100–150-yard safety zones around buildings are standard around the country. If this is not enough, or a greater concern in specific flat ground situations, weapons restriction regulations should be pursued on those specific spots, not this broad weeping statewide regulation that deprives Montanans of their right to hunt on state lands! Let me know if you have any further questions, Thanks.

Montana Shooting Access Individual Survey

Q16

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

Guarantees of continued operation through exclusion from municipal fees/taxation and/or adequate compensation for relocation. Too many facilities have already been lost to municipal expansion/eminant domain (e.g., Spokane Gun Club, one of the oldest in the country, was forced to sell their land in 2018 and have been unable to relocate due to government regulations/obstacles.

Q16

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

I was born in Montana and live in Bozeman. Safety is the biggest issue. There are a lot of people moving to the area that want to go shooting that have zero firearms background, and are often very unsafe. I have a membership at the Logan range, and it is a real problem there, even with the required training to become a member. I would never go to one of the public open shooting areas that have high use, such as the public shooting area just southwest of Logan.

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

More local public ranges, even if very small, to support most common range activity. I think pistol bays for recreational/defensive practice and ranges long enough to practice with rimfires/sight in hunting rifles.

Q16

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

More accessible public land to shoot on, a ton of the land anywhere near cities is turned into no shooting allowed, Butte, Missoula, Kalispell, it is difficult to find public land you can shoot on without driving a significant distance, as a broke college student I could barely afford ammo, definitely not the expensive range memberships, and I was having to drive quite a ways into the woods just to be able to shoot

Q16

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

Shooters in Montana are generally hunting enthusiasts as well. Eliminating corner crossing would bolster access and encourage more shooters to hunt more of the public land our tax dollars support. Utilizing shooting complexes and ranges without land to apply those cultivated skills in the field results in frustration for sportsmen of all vocations.

Q16

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

Allow local businesses or individuals to help manage state lands that are currently being used as shooting ranges. Without someone managing, bad things happen. But I have personally tried to work with the state on doing this and at first was greeted with help and then was told it's not going to happen. So the local state land that is a shooting range is still a free for all.

Q16

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

Better range facilities in the areas where long range is more difficult to access due to terrain. The southeast and eastern quadrants of the state have ample opportunities on public land that provide easily accessible long range shooting for free, and many private clubs with incredible facilities and training options. The Flathead valley has neither a public nor a private option for that year round. The closest it gets up here is occasional local matches on private land not available outside the day of the match.

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

The Bozeman area is extremely deficient on access to places to shoot. There is one piece of state land where you can shoot 100 yards that only accommodated 2-3 shooters and that is it within 30 miles. Logan range is capped on new members.

Youth shooting events to teach kids how to shoot and honestly this day and age more education for adults as well. Also, we have some of the most accurate and precise bolt gun manufacturers in the world in Montana, but yet hardly anywhere to shoot long range. That's crazy.

Q16

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

Monitoring and taking legal action for those who vandalized or trash the already established ranges. We have ranges to shoot at already, but they are unmonitored and trashed. And when violators are identified law enforcement generally takes no action so the trend just continues.

Q16

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

More public non-pay places to shoot. All the private places have specific hours and charge high fees to shoot, even if that is just sighting in a rifle prior to hunting season. There are so few public places close to my area that the known ones end up being dangerous and full of people who do not practice safe shooting.

Q16

In your opinion, what is the single most important improvement needed to support shooters in Montana?

JUST reopen closed areas like North Hills inb Helena. Nobody wants to build a big, fancy shooting complex area. Lets us use the spots we already have.
